

Part-Time Positions in Gerontology

St. Thomas University invites applications for an instructor to teach the following course in Fredericton:

Semester 2: (January 8 to April 22, 2024)

GERO 2673A Adult Development & Aging, M/W 4:00 PM – 5:20 PM

This course adopts a biopsychosocial perspective to studying aging. Topics include theoretical models of development, research methods used to study adult development, health and prevention, basic cognitive function and the aging process, higher order cognitive functions, personality, mental health issues and treatment. These biopsychological functions are examined for how they impact older adults as they navigate their social worlds. Prerequisites: GERO 1013 OR GERO 1023 OR PSYC 1023.

St. Thomas University is an undergraduate, liberal arts institution with a full-time enrolment of 1,600. Its students graduate with Bachelor of Arts, Applied Arts, Education, and Social Work degrees. The faculty members are distinguished teachers, researchers and scholars, and the university holds two Canada Research Chairs.

A PhD, or imminent completion is preferred; a Master's degree is required. Each applicant is to submit a curriculum vitae, along with pertinent documentation (Eg. teaching portfolio, etc.) and arrange to have three letters of reference sent directly to Dr. Linda Caissie, Chair, Department of Gerontology, St. Thomas University, Fredericton, NB E3B 5G3. Electronic applications may be sent to caissiel@stu.ca.

Closing date: May 24, 2023, or when the positions are filled. Applicants are responsible for ensuring that their completed applications are received by this date.
